It's been a month since we started...

A month has passed since the new school year started. The first graders are gradually getting used to elementary school life and are having fun and doing well. All classes started off in a calm atmosphere.

This year, Narita City celebrates its 70th anniversary as a city. Various events are planned to commemorate the occasion (Commemorative events). One of these is the "Children's Space Project." The project is to create mosaic art using group photos from each class and deliver it to the International Space Station (Mosaic art example). The 16th was photo shoot day at Sanrizuka Elementary School. First, we took a group photo of the entire school. We all lined up in the green plaza and took photos from the balcony on the third floor. Afterwards, each child held a sheet of paper on which they had written their dreams for the future, and a class photo was taken. Everyone was able to write down their dreams for the future.

At the all-school morning assembly held on the 17th, we talked about the importance of daily effort in order to make dreams come true. It depends on each person how much effort they make. We promised that at next month's morning meeting, We would check on their progress.

6th graders help 1st graders

The 6th graders will help the 1st graders get used to school life. The 1st graders are very happy because the 6th graders are helping them. They also come to help during school lunch time, so meals can be served smoothly. After a little while, the first graders will gradually be able to do more and more things on their own.

市制70周年記念撮影

Schools in Narita City can have aerial photographs taken. However, Sanrizuka Elementary School is difficult to take aerial photographs due to its proximity to the airport. So we gathered at Green Plaza and took a group photo. Lined up by class and gathered without leaving any gaps. The children assembled and lined up in a short time.
